NOTICE OF OPPOSITION TO REGISTRATION OF TRADEMARK SERIAL NUMBER 85703135

TO THE TRADEMARK TRIAL AND APPEAL BOARD:

Opposers Carole A. Faulkner, individually and d/b/a C I Host and Christopher Faulkner, individually and d/b/a C I Host (“Opposers” or “Faulkners”) located and doing business at 4010 Ambleside Ct., Colleyville, Texas 76034,¹ hereby oppose registration of the trademark C I HOST that is the subject of application Serial Number 85703135 made by Gary Domel (“Applicant” or “Domel”) and requests that registration to Applicant be refused.

As grounds for opposition, Opposers allege:

I.
APPLICATION SERIAL NO. 85703135

1. Domel, individually, filed a trademark application, assigned Serial No. 85703135 in the United States Patent and Trademark Office (“USPTO”) on August 14, 2012 (the “Application”) to register the mark C I HOST (the “Mark”), standard character format, under Class IC 042 for use in connection with “designing and implementing websites for others on a global computer information network; hosting the web sites of others on a computer server for a global computer network; graphic art design computer software design for others; and computer consultation” (the “Applicant’s Services”). See Exhibit A, Application Serial No. 85703135.

¹ Currently, C I Host, Inc.’s registered address is 2809 Tyler Street, Southlake, TX. C I Host’s Texas office is located at 4010 Ambleside Court, Colleyville, TX 76034. C I Host also currently has a California office located at 1663 Sawtelle Blvd, Suite 240, Los Angeles, CA.

2. The Application for the Mark was published for opposition in the Official Gazette on February 12, 2013. On March 11, 2013, the Opposers timely filed a request for a 30-day extension of time to oppose the Application, which was granted until April 13, 2013. See Exhibit B, Extension Letter from USPTO.

3. In his Application, Domel warrants and represents that he is the owner of the Mark and his address is 1851 Central Drive, Suite 110, Bedford, Texas 75001. See Exhibit A. The Application filed by Domel on August 14, 2012 was based on Domel’s alleged use of the Mark since April 1, 1995. Id. However, Domel has never used the Mark and has no intent to use the Mark in commerce much less in the class in which he applied for registration. In fact, Domel simply copied the prior registration submitted by the Opposers in 2001. See Exhibit A and Exhibit C, Prior Registration by Opposers, Registration No. 2893070, (“Prior Trademark Registration”).

II.

STANDING, PRIOR REGISTRATION AND CONTINUOUS USE

4. Opposers are the ones who have continuously and exclusively utilized the “CI Host” mark in commerce in connection with web hosting and design services, and done business as C I Host since its inception in 1995. See Exhibits E through Q, Samples of Continued Use from 1995 through the Present. Since 1995, Opposers operated the business C I Host as a sole proprietorship/partnership. On February 4, 1999, the business C I Host was incorporated as a Texas corporation. See Exhibit E. On or about May 17, 2002, C I Host Corporation was incorporated in Texas. See Exhibit F. Prior to May 2002, Opposers did business as C I Host Corporation. C I Host Corporation filed the Prior Registration. See Exhibit C. C I Host Corporation gave C I Host, Inc. permission to use the mark. C I Host, Inc. is currently a Texas corporation in good standing. See Exhibit N.

5. Prior to 2012 Christopher Faulkner was the majority shareholder in C I Host, Inc. and CEO. Currently, Carole Faulkner is the sole shareholder of C I Host, Inc. and Christopher remains the CEO of C I Host.

6. Opposers previously filed the Application for registration of the Mark, Serial No. 78028225, on September 29, 2000. The Mark was registered on October 12, 2004. See Exhibit B. Opposers also have an application pending for the “C I Host” Mark, Serial No. 85732638 filed September 19, 2012. See Exhibit D, Application Serial No. 85732638.

7. If Domel’s Application for the Mark is approved for registration in the Principal Register, Opposers will be severely damaged because they have continuously utilized the “C I Host” Mark, built goodwill in the “C I Host” Mark, and done business as C I Host for over eighteen years. See Exhibits E through R.

8. C I Host continues to offer internet hosting, design, and other related web services to customers throughout the United States and internationally including but not limited to the following services: application service provider (ASP), namely, hosting computer software applications of others; computer services, namely, cloud hosting provider services; computer services, namely, interactive hosting services which allow the user to publish and share their own content and images on-line; consulting services in the field of hosting computer software applications; design, creation, hosting and maintenance of internet sites for third parties; design, creation, hosting, maintenance of websites for others; developing and hosting a server on a global computer network for the purpose of facilitating e-commerce via such a server; hosting internet sites for others; hosting of digital content on the Internet; hosting of web sites; hosting the software, websites and other computer applications of others on a virtual private server; hosting the web sites of others on a computer server for a global computer network; hosting websites on the Internet; maintenance of websites and hosting on-line web facilities for others; providing an online website for creating and hosting micro websites for businesses; technical support services, namely, remote administration and management of in-house and hosted datacenter devices, databases and software applications; web site hosting services” (“C I Host Services”).

9. Since 1995, the Opposers have undertaken widespread internet and print advertising, provided extensive interviews and attended numerous annual tradeshows to promote the mark of “C I Host” and C I Host Services, including extensive internet advertising and maintenance of the website located at www.cihost.com. See Exhibits H through Q. Opposers have expended substantial funds, time, and energy to promote and advertise the mark “C I Host” in connection and association with the C I Host Services throughout the United States. Id.

10. Opposers are entitled to protection of their common law trademark “C I Host” as a result of their continuous and exclusive usage of the “C I Host” name in interstate commerce in connection with the C I Host Services.

11. Opposers have priority in the Mark as Domel, contrary to his claim in his Application (for which he signed the Declaration), has neither used the Mark nor any version of “C I Host” nor conducted any business known as C I Host or provided any of the Applicant’s Services in connection with C I Host, and his only affiliation with C I Host is that of a creditor of the business known as C I Host, Inc. If Domel is now allowed to use the Mark in commerce it would confuse and deceive the public and would cause irreparable damage to Opposers, and to the goodwill and reputation of the “C I Host” Mark.

III.
DOMEL KNOWS OF THE CONTINUOUS USE OF THE MARK BY OPPOSERS AND MADE FRAUDULENT STATEMENTS IN HIS APPLICATION AND DECLARATION TO PROCURE THE MARK

12. An applicant or registrant commits fraud when he knowingly makes false, material representations in any sworn declaration submitted to the USPTO with the intent to deceive the Office. These would include sworn declarations accompanying applications and statements of use.

13. Grounds for fraud include whether the applicant was making bona fide use of the mark in connection with all of the identified goods and services as of the filing date of an application under Section 1(a).

14. Domel made numerous material misrepresentations in his Application. Domel fraudulently represented to the USPTO that he utilized the Mark in connection with all of the identified goods and services since April 1, 1995. See Exhibit A.

15. Domel further misrepresented that he used the Mark in connection with the identified services as of August 14, 2012. Id.

16. Domel never utilized the Mark in commerce in connection with or to identify any goods or services of the type described in Class IC 042, or at all. Domel merely utilized and copied the public information through the USPTO from the Prior Trademark Registration of “C I Host” held by C I Host Corporation, a company owned and controlled by Opposers. The Prior Trademark Registration was cancelled on May 13, 2011.

17. Domel has never maintained an office, business, or operated using the name C I Host at any address including the 1851 Central Drive, #110, Bedford, TX address. The business known as C I Host, owned and controlled by Opposers, moved their offices in 2004 from 1851 Central Drive, Bedford, TX 76021. Since 2009, the building at 1851 Central Drive has been vacant. As of this date, the building at 1851 Central Drive, Bedford Texas that Domel represented was the office of C I Host has been demolished. See Exhibit R. The 2012 Current Status and Franchise Information Report filed with the State of Texas shows the correct address for C I Host at the time that Domel filed the Application with the USPTO. See Exhibits M and N.

18. The only association that Domel has ever held with the corporation C I Host, Inc. was as a creditor of the Company. Domel was never in privity with C I Host, Inc., C I Host Corporation, or done business as C I Host. Domel has filed his trademark application for the Mark to harass the Opposers, without any intent to use the Mark in connection with any goods or services, and in fraudulent violation of his Declaration and 18 U.S.C. Section 1001, et al.

19. Opposers are the only persons/entities that own the common law trademark “C I Host” or that have continually and exclusively used the Mark and “C I Host” in connection with goods and services in commerce since 1995.

20. Domel’s Application should be dismissed because of the fraudulent statements contained therein and his attempt to fraudulently procure the Mark. By attempting to register the Mark, Domel is attempting to restrain the trade of the Mark owned by Opposers.

IV.
LIKELIHOOD OF CONFUSION: TRADEMARK ACT SECTION 2(D), 15 U.S.C.
SECTION 1052(D)

21. The Mark that Domel is attempting to register, and the goods and/or services for which he is attempting to register the Mark, are identical to the common law trademark that Opposers have previously and continuously used and offered. Likelihood of confusion between Domel’s use (if he ever uses the Mark) and Opposer’s use of the Mark is unquestionable.

22. Registration of a trade-mark that so nearly resembles the corporate name of opposer as to be likely to produce public confusion does not justify registration of the trade-mark. No mark by which the goods of the owner of the mark may be distinguished from other goods of the same class shall be refused registration as a trademark on account of the nature of such mark unless such mark so nearly resemble(s) a registered or known trade mark owned and in use by another, and appropriated to merchandise of the same descriptive properties as to be likely to cause confusion or mistake in the mind of the public or to deceive purchasers. See Tidy-House Paper Products, Inc. v. Tidy House Products Co, 38 C.C.P.A. 1099, 189 F.2d 280 (May 8, 1951)

23. Opposers have proprietary rights in the “C I Host” Mark that are superior to those of Domel. The identical nature of the marks in sight, sound and meaning along with the identical services warrant the dismissal of Domel’s Application. In further support of the dismissal of Domel’s Application is that the trade channels and classes of purchasers of the good and/or services are identical; the similarity of the conditions under which a buyer encounters the marks would be such that there would undoubtedly be confusion. See Exhibits A, C, and D. Prospective purchasers may mistakenly believe that the two goods and services marketed under the marks “C I HOST” and “C I Host” would have the same source or origin and the identical marks would more than likely cause confusion, mistake or deceive purchasers (should Domel use the Mark which he has not done). See Sundure Paint Corporation, Appellant, v. Maas & Waldstein Co., 46 C.C.P.A. 926, 267 F.2d 943.

24. Furthermore, Applicant’s Application should not be granted because it was not filed based on Applicant’s actual use of C I Host or C I HOST as a trademark with each and every one of Applicant’s Services, and on information and belief, Domel failed to satisfy the requirements of Trademark Act Section 1(a) and related Trademark Rules and Regulations, and Opposers respectfully request that registration of the Mark shown in the Application be refused and that this Opposition be sustained in favor of Opposers.

V.

VI.
CONCLUSION

26. In conclusion, Opposers, have established to this tribunal that they hold a superior right to the trademark "C I Host" from their usage of the mark in commerce since 1995. It is Opposers belief that they will suffer irreparable damage if Domel is allowed to register the mark “C I HOST”. The likelihood of confusion by the public between his alleged mark “C I HOST” and the Opposers’ common law mark of “C I Host” is unquestionable and will result in injury to the Opposers. Opposers have owned and done business under the entity name of C I Host in the United States since 1995, and such name has been affixed in connection with all of their goods and services. The purpose of the trade-mark statutes are the promotion of the interests of the trade and commerce of the country and the protection of trade-marks which are lawfully used or owned by those engaged in such trade and commerce. as the common law Finally, Domel should not be rewarded for his deliberate, fraudulent and material misrepresentations to the USPTO.

PRAYER

WHEREFORE, Opposers, Carole Faulkner, individually and d/b/a C I Host and Christopher Faulkner, individually and d/b/a C I Host respectfully requests that the Board sustain this Opposition and deny the registration of the C I HOST Mark to Gary Domel, and grant Opposers such further relief, at law or in equity, to which they may justly show themselves entitled.

7.01 Validity Unaffected. If paragraph 7.02 is satisfied, no contract, act, or transaction between this corporation and any of its directors, officers or shareholders, or any firm, trust, or association in which any of them are directly or indirectly interested, shall be affected or invalidated solely because of this relationship or because of the presence of a directors, officer, or shareholder at the meeting authorizing the contract or transaction, or his participation, or both, in the meeting or authorization, except as may be otherwise provided in Article 2.41 of the Texas Business Corporation Act. No duty to pay damages to this corporation shall be imposed upon any directors, officer, or shareholder of this corporation solely by reason of such fact or facts, regardless of the vote, action, or presence of any such director.

7.02 Disclosure, Approval, Fairness. Paragraph 7.01 shall only apply if:

- (1) The material facts of the relationship of interest of each director is known or disclosed:
 - (a) to the Board of directors, and the board authorizes or ratifies the contract, act, or transaction by a vote of the majority of the directors present (each interested director shall be counted in determining whether a quorum is present, but not counted in determining the majority necessary to carry the vote); or
 - (b) to the shareholders, and they authorize or ratify the contract, act, or transaction by a majority of the disinterested shares present (each such interested person shall be counted for quorum and voting purposes); or
- (2) the contract, act, or transaction is fair to the corporation as of the time it is authorized or ratified by the Board of directors or the shareholders.

7.03 Nonexclusive. This provision shall not be construed to invalidate a contract, act, or transaction which would be valid in the absence of this provision.

ARTICLE VIII

INDEMNIFICATION

8.01 Persons Covered. The corporation shall indemnify, to the extent provided in paragraphs 8.02, 8.04, or 8.06:

- (1) any person who is or was a director, officer, agent, or employee of the corporation; and
- (2) any person who serves or served at the corporation's request as a director, officer, agent, employee, partner, venturer, proprietor, or trustee of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, sole proprietorship, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise.

8.02 Extent of Coverage - Derivative Suits. In case of a suit by or in the right of the corporation against a person named in paragraph 8.01 by reason of his holding a position named in paragraph 8.01 the corporation shall indemnify such person, if he satisfies the standard in paragraph 8.03, for expenses (including court costs and attorneys' fees, but excluding amounts paid in settlement) actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or settlement of the suit.

8.03 Requirements for Coverage - Derivative Suits. In case of a suit by or in the right of the corporation, a person named in paragraph 8.01 shall be indemnified only if:

- (1) he is successful on the merits or otherwise; or
- (2) he acted in good faith in the transaction which is the subject of the suit, and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in, (or not opposed to, but only in cases in which he was not acting in his official capacity as director of the corporation) the best interests of the corporation. However, he shall not be indemnified in respect to any claim, issue, or matter as to which he has been adjudged (1) liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him, whether or not the benefit resulted from action taken in his official capacity, or (2) liable to the corporation, unless (and only to the extent that) the court in which the suit was brought shall determine, upon application, that, despite the adjudication but in view of all the circumstances, he is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for such expenses as the court shall deem proper.

8.04: Extent of Coverage - Nonderivative Suits. In case of a suit, action, or proceeding (whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative) other than a suit by or in the right of the corporation, collectively hereafter referred to as a nonderivative suit, against a person named in paragraph 8.01, by reason of his holding a position named in paragraph 8.01, the corporation shall indemnify such person, if he satisfied the standard in paragraph 8.05, for amounts actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or settlement of the nonderivative suit as:

- (1) expenses (including court costs and attorneys' fees);
- (2) amounts paid in settlement;
- (3) judgments;
- (4) fines; and
- (5) penalties.

8.05 Requirements for Coverage - Nonderivative Suits. In case of a nonderivative suit, a person named in paragraph 8.01 shall be indemnified only if:

- (1) he is successful on the merits or otherwise; or
- (2) he acted in good faith in the transaction which is the subject of the nonderivative suit, and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in, (or not opposed to, but only in cases in which he was not acting in his official capacity as director of the corporation) the best interests of the corporation and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, he had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful. The termination of nonderivative suit by judgment order, settlement conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent shall not, of itself, create a presumption that the person failed to satisfy the standard of this paragraph 8.05(2).

8.06 Determination Standard Met. A determination that the standard of paragraph 8.03 or 8.05 has been satisfied may be made by a court. Or, except as stated in paragraph 8.03(2), the determination may be made:

- (1) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of directors who at the time of the vote are not named defendants or respondents in the action, suit or proceeding;
- (2) if such a quorum cannot be obtained, by a majority vote of a committee of the Board of directors, designated to act in the matter by a majority vote of all directors, consisting solely of two or more directors who at the time of the vote are not named defendants or respondents in the action, suit, or proceeding;

- (3) by special legal counsel selected by the Board of directors or a committee of the board by vote as set forth in (1) or (2) of this paragraph, or, if such a quorum cannot be obtained and such a committee cannot be established, such selection may be made by a majority vote of all directors; or
- (4) by the shareholders in a vote that excludes the shares held by directors who are named defendants or respondents in the action, suit, or proceeding.

8.07 Proration. Anyone making a determination under paragraph 8.06 may determine that a person has met the standard as to some matters but not as to others, and may reasonably prorate amounts to be indemnified.

8.08 Advances. The corporation may pay in advance any expenses (including attorneys' fees) which may become subject to indemnification under paragraph 8.01-07 if:

- (1) the corporation receives (1) a written affirmation by the director of his good faith belief that he has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification under paragraph 8.03 or 8.05 and (2) a written undertaking by or on behalf of the director to repay the amount paid or reimbursed if it is ultimately determined that he has not met those requirements; and
- (2) a determination that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under paragraphs 8.01-8.07.

8.09 Nonexclusive. The indemnification provided by paragraph 8.01-8.07 shall not be exclusive of any other rights to which a person may be entitled by law, bylaw, agreement, vote of shareholders or disinterested directors, or otherwise.

8.10 Continuation. The indemnification and advance payment provided by paragraph 8.01-8.08 shall continue as to a person who has ceased to hold a position named in paragraph 8.01 and shall inure to his heirs, executors, and administrators.

8.11 Insurance. The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who holds or who has held any position named in paragraph 8.01 against any liability incurred by him in any such position, or arising out of his status as such, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify him against such liability under paragraphs 8.01-

8.12 Reports. Indemnification payments, advance payments, and insurance payments made under paragraphs 8.01-8.11 shall be reported in writing to the shareholders of the corporation with the next notice of annual meeting or within six (6) month, whichever is sooner.

ARTICLE IX

LIMITATION OF DIRECTOR LIABILITY

If a Board of Directors is established, a director of the corporation will not be liable to the corporation or its shareholders for monetary damages for an act or omission in the director's capacity as a director except that this article does not eliminate nor limit the liability of director for;

- (1) a breach of a director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its shareholders;
- (2) an act or omission not in good faith or that involves intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of the law;
- (3) a transaction from which a director received an improper benefit, whether or not the benefit resulted from an action taken within the scope of the director's office;
- (4) an act or omission for which the liability of a director is expressly provided for by statute, or
- (5) an act related to an unlawful stock repurchase or payment of a dividend.

ARTICLE X

The business and affairs of the Corporation shall be managed by the Shareholders rather than a Board of Directors. The initial Board of Directors shall consist of Christopher A. Faulkner, 315c Harwood Road, Bedford, Texas 76021.

However, he shall not be indemnified in respect to any claim, issue, or matter as to which he has been adjudged (1) liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him, whether or not the benefit resulted from action taken in his official capacity, or (2) liable to the corporation, unless (and only to the extent that) the court in which the suit was brought shall determine, upon application, that, despite the adjudication but in view of all the circumstances, he is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for such expenses as the court shall deem proper.

8.04 Extent of Coverage - Nonderivative Suits. In case of a suit, action, or proceeding (whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative) other than a suit by or in the right of the corporation, collectively hereafter referred to as a nonderivative suit, against a person named in paragraph 8.01, by reason of his holding a position named in paragraph 8.01, the corporation shall indemnify such person, if he satisfied the standard in paragraph 8.05, for amounts actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or settlement of the nonderivative suit as:

- (1) expenses (including court costs and attorneys' fees);
- (2) amounts paid in settlement;
- (3) judgments;
- (4) fines; and
- (5) penalties.

8.05 Requirements for Coverage - Nonderivative Suits. In case of a nonderivative suit, a person named in paragraph 8.01 shall be indemnified only if:

- (1) he is successful on the merits or otherwise; or
- (2) he acted in good faith in the transaction which is the subject of the nonderivative suit, and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in, (or not opposed to, but only in cases in which he was not acting in his official capacity as director of the corporation) the best interests of the corporation and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, he had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful. The termination of nonderivative suit by judgment order, settlement conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent shall not, of itself, create a presumption that the person failed to satisfy the standard of this paragraph

8.06 Determination Standard Met. A determination that the standard of paragraph 8.03 or 8.05 has been satisfied may be made by a court. Or, except as stated in paragraph 8.03(2), the determination may be made:

- (1) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of directors who at the time of the vote are not named defendants or respondents in the action, suit or proceeding;
- (2) if such a quorum cannot be obtained, by a majority vote of a committee of the Board of directors, designated to act in the matter by a majority vote of all directors, consisting solely of two or more directors who at the time of the vote are not named defendants or respondents in the action, suit, or proceeding;
- (3) by special legal counsel selected by the Board of directors or a committee of the board by vote as set forth in (1) or (2) of this paragraph, or, if such a quorum cannot be obtained and such a committee cannot be established, such selection may be made by a majority vote of all directors; or
- (4) by the shareholders in a vote that excludes the shares held by directors who are named defendants or respondents in the action, suit, or proceeding.

8.07 Proration. Anyone making a determination under paragraph 8.06 may determine that a person has met the standard as to some matters but not as to others, and may reasonably prorate amounts to be indemnified.

8.08 Advances. The corporation may pay in advance any expenses (including attorneys' fees) which may become subject to indemnification under paragraph 8.01-07 if:

- (1) the corporation receives (1) a written affirmation by the director of his good faith belief that he has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification under paragraph 8.03 or 8.05 and (2) a written undertaking by or on behalf of the director to repay the amount paid or reimbursed if it is ultimately determined that he has not met those requirements; and
- (2) a determination that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under paragraphs 8.01-8.07.

8.09 Nonexclusive. The indemnification provided by paragraph 8.01-8.07 shall not be exclusive of any other rights to which a person may be entitled by law, bylaw, agreement, vote of shareholders or disinterested directors, or otherwise.

8.10 Continuation. The indemnification and advance payment provided by paragraph 8.01-8.08 shall continue as to a person who has ceased to hold a position named in paragraph

8.01 and shall inure to his heirs, executors, and administrators.

8.11 Insurance. The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who holds or who has held any position named in paragraph 8.01 against any liability incurred by him in any such position, or arising out of his status as such, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify him against such liability under paragraphs 8.01-808.

8.12 Reports. Indemnification payments, advance payments, and insurance payments made under paragraphs 8.01-8.11 shall be reported in writing to the shareholders of the corporation with the next notice of annual meeting or within six (6) month, whichever is sooner.

ARTICLE IX

C I Host Named Number One Web Hosting Company in Dallas Business Journal's Annual "Book Of Lists"

FORT WORTH (March 13, 2007)

FORT WORTH (March 13, 2007) - C I Host, a global leader in Web hosting and software development, has been named the number one Web hosting company in the Dallas/Fort Worth Metroplex by the Dallas Business Journal in its annual "Book of Lists."

"We are pleased and honored to be chosen by the Journal as the top Web hosting company," said Christopher Faulkner, CEO of C I Host. "The Dallas/Fort Worth Metroplex is one of the top business markets in the country and it is fertile soil, allowing us to grow worldwide."

The Dallas Business Journal determines which companies win a coveted spot on its list by reviewing revenue and overall industry growth.

A combination of business acumen, putting the customer first and a solid financial foundation has enabled C I Host to grow consistently throughout the ups and downs of the economic cycle over the past nine years.

"We've grown, expanded and stayed ahead of the curve in the industry," Faulkner said. "We consistently put our customers at the center of our company and make sure that giving them the tools to succeed is guiding our decisions."

Over the past year, C I Host has expanded its core data center in Bedford for the fourth time and formed a strategic partnership with Iomega Corporation, a global leader in data protection and developer of OfficeScreen managed services, and developed an anti-scam toolbar and other strategies to protect Internet users from Internet crime.

As part of its expanding services, C I Host pioneered the use of web-based technology to expand the market for musicians and artists to sell their products and services and to help nonprofit organizations linked with the arts to raise funds to help those hurt by national disasters.

"This is an exciting time to be part of the information technology and eCommerce industry," Faulkner said. "We are working consistently to keep the Internet healthy, secure and accessible."

C I Host Invests for Growth, Expands Operations with New Texas Datacenter Facility

FORT WORTH (November 11, 2008)

Company implements 11 years of best practices and better technology for customers

Today, C I Host announced a new datacenter facility scheduled to open in 2009 in Dallas, Texas. The new facility maximizes best practices from the company's 11 years in business, along with providing improved technology to customers. The company continues to offer industry-leading services for the same low prices. The new datacenter facilities expand the company's capabilities while consolidating operations to more efficiently serve customers worldwide.

The new datacenter facilities represent a transformation for the company, as the datacenter is built out for maximum performance, efficiency and availability for the customer - all before customers are ever moved in.

"C I Host is a pioneer in the Web hosting industry and we have the opportunity to use more than a decade of experiences to build a customer's ideal datacenter from the ground up - and then deliver it to them," said Erin Bullock, Executive Director of Business Development for C I Host. ;

The new facilities, which will open in February 2009, boast 60,000 square feet of space with diverse electrical feeds and fiber entrances, while a 1.5-megawatt power transformer and 750-kilowatt transformer will ably handle electrical loads. On-site fuel storage and a generator with Automatic Transfer Switches will help ensure consistent power availability.

Nicholas Giancola, Chief Network Architect at C I Host adds: "We're using the new facilities as a blank slate opportunity to provide the kind of technology and service our customers demand."

The new buildings are located in the Dallas Love Field Corridor, 6 miles from downtown Dallas, 2.5 miles from Love Field Airport, and 10 miles from DFW International Airport.

New customers will be added to the new facility in early 2009, while current C I Host customers will be migrated during the following six to twelve months.

CI Host struggling back after server crash

Kerry Curry
Staff Writer

BEDFORD -- When CI Host's name server went down and dumped its 48,000 customers off the Internet, the company experienced a "very catastrophic event" but not a business-ending one, an information-technology analyst says.

Even so, "this can have a significant impact on a hoster's reputation," said Audrey Apfel, vice president and research director at the Gartner Group in Stamford, Conn.

CI Host, a Web-hosting company in Bedford, said its primary name server experienced data corruption that rendered it useless on Dec. 29. Though the company said its name server was restored by Jan. 1, it took time to get customers' sites operating again. Some customers said their sites were down for more than a week, and customers were still reporting problems with their sites working properly this week.

Such problems aren't unheard of in the hosting industry, although Apfel said CI Host's problems were "worse than most."

The incident spells an opportunity for competitors to go after CI Host's customers, she said. "CI Host has hundreds of competitors. None of these guys are big enough to make a foray, but there will be plenty of nibbling at the edges."

Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.-based ValueWeb, which hosts 50,000 Web sites, is one of the companies doing some nibbling.

"It is unfortunate that our competitors have problems, but when they do, we do try to capitalize on that," said Jeffrey D. Rubenstein, president and chief operating officer at ValueWeb. Rubenstein said ValueWeb had gained some former CI Host customers, but declined to say how many.

Apfel said CI Host is most at risk for losing its top-tier customers -- those who use their Internet sites for e-commerce and expected a stable environment. Others who have more passive sites likely will be satisfied with the steps CI Host has taken to remedy the situation.

C I Host has been honored as one of HostPulse.com's 100 Most Dynamic Web Hosting Companies and has received a Top 10 Host Award from WebHostsOnline.com in recognition of its superior service, speed and introduction of cutting edge technology.

"We are certainly pleased with these awards," said Christopher Faulkner, founder and CEO of C I Host. "Putting our customers first and doing our part to keep the Internet healthy and accessible for all our global citizens is central to our mission."

In explaining how it chose the hundred most dynamic web hosting companies, HostPulse.com said: "Web users want a hosting partner rather than a vendor. Our 100 Most Dynamic Web Hosting Companies listing recognizes companies in the web hosting industry that demonstrate three characteristics -- responsiveness to market demand, marketing expertise, and building successful customer relationships."

In addition, C I Host was ranked in the top 20 web hosts tested by targetblaster.com for having 99.45 percent uptime, one of the highest ratios in the industry.

"We aren't surprised by our high ranking," Faulkner said. "We have invested significant amounts of money and resources in the past year to make our network one of the most robust and reliable in the world."

C I Host, founded to be a customer-centric operation, has been at the forefront in passing its good fortune on to its customers. Long after other companies stopped trying to copy its two-for-one server offer, C I Host was still reaping the benefits of its share the wealth marketing philosophy.

"Other companies copied it but couldn't reproduce the profits and stopped," Faulkner said. "Because of our relationships with more than 25 of the world's largest computer parts vendors, we can buy the best hardware for the lowest prices and pass that savings on to our customers through the two for one server offer. We sold more than 900 paid servers through this offer over the past 12 months."

C I Host's success is due in large part to its marketing savvy and its sound financial footing.

A combination of forces and business decisions has given C I Host the solid foundation that has enabled it not only to withstand, but to thrive in the unsettled economic climate that has forced other firms to cut back, withdraw and sometimes fold their tents.

C I Host has data centers in Texas, Chicago and Los Angeles, will open its first European center in London in April, and has more planned to open in Germany, India and Japan within the year.

"We are growing even faster than we were a year ago," said Faulkner, who turned 25 in December amidst one of C I Host's best months. "Our finances are as sound and secure as our robust network. The future is bright."

CI Host opens store in the Galleria

CI Host, a Bedford-based Web hosting company, has opened its first retail store at the Galleria mall.

CI Host said it believes it is the first company to sell Web hosting and Internet infrastructure services in a bricks-and-mortar store.

"Selling Web hosting services in a retail setting is a new concept," said Christopher Faulkner, CEO of CI Host. "This gives us the ability to meet our customers face-to-face."

CI Host's Technology Store will sell services aimed at small and medium-sized companies, as well as those geared for larger companies. Services will include shared hosting, in which the data from several clients' Web sites are housed on the same server, and dedicated, managed hosting, which gives a large company its own server and technical support staff.

Customers can walk in, buy a Web hosting account, have it set up in the store, and leave the store with all logins necessary to start uploading content when they get home, the company said. They also can order a dedicated server and have it set up and on CI Host's network and their logins e-mailed to them the same day.

CI Host's store also will sell its boxed products, e-Business in a Box and e-Memories on the Web.

The company plans to open future stores in Chicago, Los Angeles and Baltimore, where CI Host has facilities and strong markets, and eventually in malls all over the country.

'Human Billboard' Recruits 800 New Clients for C I Host

More ▾

DALLAS, Oct. 19 /PRNewswire/ -- C I Host, a global leader in Web hosting and software development, today announced its walking, breathing "Human Billboard" captured 800 new accounts since the promotion began in March of 2003. After signing a contract with C I Host, Jim Nelson had the company's logo tattooed on the back of his head.

"The campaign brought C I Host's message to the masses," said Christopher Faulkner, CEO of C I Host. "The 'Human Billboard' is responsible for bringing us hundreds of new clients -- a success by any means."

The 800th customer, Marion Rice of Omaha, Neb., saw the tattoo and instantly questioned Nelson.

"The 'Human Billboard' caught my eye and when I stopped him, he told me about C I Host," Rice said. "He was a big factor in my decision to go with C I Host."

The unique advertising idea has been featured in the press worldwide. Nelson agreed to the unusual use of his head to raise money for a dot.com business.

The five-year contract requires the "Human Billboard" to keep the tattoo visible at all times and make daily treks promoting C I Host, which includes trips throughout the continental U.S.

Faulkner knew the program would be successful shortly after it began -- 23 new accounts were generated directly from the tattooing event and C I Host Web traffic increased 12 percent just within the first two months of the campaign.

"The 'Human Billboard' is one of the most aggressive salespeople I've got," Faulkner said. "This proves the power of grassroots, guerrilla marketing should never be underestimated."
